constitutional reform has been one of the most significant aspects of democratization in late twentieth century latin america in the friendly liquidation of the past one of the first texts to examine this issue comprehensively van cott focuses on the efforts of bolivia and colombia to incorporate ethnic rights into their fragile democracies in the 1990s political leaders and social movements in bolivia and colombia expressed dissatisfaction with the quality of democracy its exclusionary nature the distance and illegitimacy of the state and the empty promise of citizenship the highly symbolic act of constitution making elevated a public struggle for rights to the level of a discussion on the meaning of democracy and the nature of the state based on interviews with more than 100 participants in the reforms van cott demonstrates how issues promoted by social movements recognizing ethnic diversity expanding political participation and improving representation and creating spheres of cultural and territorial autonomy were placed on the constitutional reform agenda and transformed through strategic interaction with political power brokers into the nation's highest law the analysis follows each reform through five years of implementation to assess the early results of what van cott suggests is an emerging regional model of multicultural constitutionalism the friendly liquidation of the past fills an important gap in the study of ethnic politics and constitutional reform in the andes linking the literature on institutions and political reform to work in political theory on participatory democracy and multiculturalism recent scandals including questionable fund raising tactics by the current administration have brought campaign finance reform into the forefront of the news and the public consciousness dollars and votes goes beyond the partial often misleading news stories and official records to explain how our campaign system operates the authors conducted thorough interviews with corporate government relations officials about what they do and why they do it the results provide some of the most damning evidence imaginable what donors especially business donors expect for their money is access and access means a lot more than a chance to meet and talk they count on secret behind the scenes deals like a tax provision that applies only to a corporation incorporated on june 13 1917 which has its principal place of business in bartlesville oklahoma after a deal is worked out behind closed doors one executive explains it doesn't much matter how people vote afterwards ordinary contributions give access to congress megabuck soft money contributions ensure access to the president and top leaders the striking truth revealed by these authors is that half the soft money comes from fewer than five hundred big donors and that most contributions come directly or indirectly from business reform is possible they argue by turning away from the temptation of looking at specific scandals and developing a new system that removes the influence of big money campaign contributors
