 Atonement and Ethics in 1 John The Countercultural Victory of 1 John in Greco-Roman Context From Reopen to Reinvent Handbook of Cosmetic Science and Technology Christopher Armitage Ahreum Kim Michael B. Horn Frank Dreher

christopher armitage considers previous theological perception of 1 john as a text advocating that god abhors violence contrasted with biblical scholarship analysis that focuses upon the text's birth from hostile theological conflict between insiders and outsiders with immensely hostile rhetoric directed towards antichrists and those who have left the community armitage argues that a peace oriented reading of 1 john is still viable but questions if the commandment that the community loves each other is intended to include their opponents and whether the text can be of hermeneutic use to advocate non violence and love of one's neighbour this book examines five key words from 1 john hilasmos sfazo anthropoktonos agape and adelphos looking at their background and use in the old testament in both hebrew and the lxx arguing that these central themes presuppose a god whose engagement with the world is not assuaging divine anger nor ferocious defence of truth at the expense of love but rather peace and avoidance of hatred that inevitably leads to violence and death armitage concludes that a peacemaking hermeneutic is not only viable but integral to reading the epistle ahreum kim re-examines conquering language in 1 john arguing that when the letter is read with the context of greco-roman culture in mind the conflict extends beyond in fighting within the johannine community she suggests that the letter's author presents a consistent countercultural narrative due to concern about the predominant world and proposes that the author exhorts the minority johannine community to hold onto their belief while proclaiming that they are triumphant conquerors against the prevailing world kim first examines how conquering language toward a johannine nike utilizes militaristic undertones already familiar in greco-roman culture she argues that each of the opponents mentioned is affiliated with the world and it is ultimately the conquering of the world itself which marks the johannine victory kim demonstrates that the author references the negative fear of the divine in the polytheistic world which contrasts with the johannine love of god and that his countercultural message continues to the very end with a concluding warning against the many worldly idols finally she posits that the battle with the greco-roman world is ultimately a conflict of pistis comparing roman soldiers achieving military victories with a pistis to their emperor and the repeated
