bachelorarbeit aus dem jahr 2021 im fachbereich didaktik für das fach englisch landeskunde note 1,7 eberhard karls universität tübingen sprache deutsch abstract the title of the paper already indicates what it is about: the micropolitics of kendrick lamar are to be analysed, but what exactly does that mean? this paper will look at what micropolitics means to kendrick lamar. does he define his political opinion through his ethnicity? in this paper, political hip hop and rap will be examined. in particular, one of the most important rappers of the 21st century will be used for this purpose: kendrick lamar. this paper will deal with how kendrick lamar reveals his political opinion in his works, what qualifies him for this. the thesis is that kendrick lamar raps a lot about racism, discrimination, and life as a black person in his songs, but not only these topics are dealt with in his songs; the reference to religion is not neglected either. what runs like a thread through all his songs and albums is the marginalisation of black people. kendrick lamar sees himself as the voice of the black oppressed society; he gives them his voice and tries to draw attention to various issues. in the following, micropolitics will be first defined, and it will be worked out what it means for the culture and what role popular culture plays here. the most important part of this work is to understand how micropolitics can be used to better understand hip hop. this will be elaborated mainly in the second chapter. furthermore, this thesis will briefly compare micropolitics and politics and work out what part hip hop can play here. at this point, it will be made clear why kendrick lamar resorts to politics in his songs and what politics actually means in this case. once these basics have been clarified, kendrick lamar will be briefly introduced in order to better understand the background of his music. afterwards, his political attitude will be elaborated. this will be done based on his four published studio albums. furthermore, four different songs, each from a different album, to see his development will be analysed in detail. a music video will also be subjected to this analysis.

kendrick lamar duckworth was born in compton, california, on june 17, 1987. fittingly, his entry into the world was accompanied by a link to music: an early intimation that his life would be connected to it in some way. his parents, kenny and paula, named him after eddie james kendrick, one of the original five members of the temptations, the legendary detroit-based rhythm and blues group of the 1960s and 1970s. his parents had left chicago to head to california in the mid 1980s at his mom's prodding to escape the gang culture that had a stranglehold on parts of the city. allegedly, his father had connections with a gang himself, and his mom was hoping to pull him away from that lifestyle to create a better and safer future on the west coast. however, what they found in compton was eerily and dangerously similar to what they had left behind in the windy city: neighborhoods choked by violent crime and overrun by gangs, drugs, and murder.
