this book combines elementary theory from computer science with real world challenges in global geodetic observation based on examples from the geodetic observatory wettzell germany it starts with a step by step introduction to developing stable and safe scientific software to run successful software projects the use of software toolboxes is another essential aspect that leads to the application of generative programming an example is a generative network middleware that simplifies communication one of the book s main focuses is on explaining a potential strategy involving autonomous production cells for space geodetic techniques the complete software design of a satellite laser ranging system is taken as an example such automated systems are then combined for global interaction using secure communication tunnels for remote access the network of radio telescopes is used as a reference combined observatories form coordinated multi agent systems and offer solutions for operational aspects of the global geodetic observing system ggos with regard to industry 4 0
