set to the journey of a lone spirit, an unspoken soul is abandoned by this world, ensnared by the very dream they created, lost in space and time, driven to a world within that calls for its creator to finish what they began, unaware of their mission. They are taken to an ancient world that is cursed by their presence yet demands sovereignty from this stranger, dreaming, shattered by the presence of this dreamer. A wave of destruction covers the land in darkness as the dreamer must then defend their innocence even to their own reflection. Love is stolen, the lands are ravished, and the dreamer becomes the shadow warrior of a world they knew nothing about, a world they must preserve or they themselves will perish.

Religious poetry is the holy of holies of literature in all ages. Poets have been the interpreters of the finer feelings of humanity, and the greatest have treated the loftiest themes that can employ the mind and the heart: the relation of man to his maker and the duties and privileges which arise from it. It has been the aim of the editors to make the present collection truly catholic; it embraces a body of representative poems of all ages, denominations, and countries. The authors are allowed the fullest liberty of uttering their sentiments in their own words. Preface
