this book examines the intersecting forces of nationalism terrorism and patriotism that normalize an acceptance of the global war on terror as essential to maintaining freedom and democracy as defined by white nation states readers are introduced to speculative ethnography an experimental methodology that bends time and space through the practice of avant garde poetics this study conceptualizes terrorism as a place of colonial encounters between soldiers insurgents civilians and leaders of nation states the tactics of suicide bombings employed by the tamil nationalist movement the liberation tigers of tamil eelam are juxtaposed with drone strikes in asymmetric warfare where violence becomes a means of dialogue each chapter weaves seemingly disparate narratives from multiple experiences and sites of war inviting readers to witness the condition of getting lost in that willful attachment to killing and being killed in service of patriotic pride and national belonging throughout us history only three black women shirley chisholm carol moseley braun and kamala harris have given successfully recognized bids for the office of president of the united states in a black woman for president author dianna n watkins dickerson uses womanist rhetorical criticism to analyze the presidential announcement speeches of congresswoman shirley chisholm ambassador carol moseley braun and then senator kamala harris in close readings of each candidate s speeches watkins dickerson defines womanist rhetorical theory and its efficacy for researching black female voices in the field of communication in general and the presidential announcement speeches of black women specifically beginning with shirley chisholm s historic 1972 campaign as the first black woman to run a viable campaign for the us presidency the volume analyzes how chisholm s speech set a precedent for future generations of black women in politics by boldly asserting her right to lead despite the multiple barriers of race and gender the study then moves to carol moseley braun s 2004 presidential announcement exploring how braun s speech navigated the intersections of identity representation and political ambition during a time when black women in the senate were still a rarity finally the analysis culminates with kamala harris s 2020 presidential bid focusing on how her rhetoric blended elements of black feminist resistance and national unity in an era of heightened political and racial division the volume highlights the ways in which chisholm braun and harris drew upon their lived experiences and cultural legacies to construct powerful transformative narratives and argues that their speeches not only expanded the boundaries of political discourse but also reimagined the possibilities for leadership in america ultimately this study provides a rich interdisciplinary framework for understanding how black women have reshaped the political landscape through the power of their words
