in the oxbridge evangelist motivations practices and legacy of c s lewis michael gehring examines the evangelistic practices of one of the most significant lay evangelists of the twentieth century in the 1930s his contemporaries would never have predicted the scope of the legacy that lewis was to leave behind him although millions across the world have been influenced by lewis s evangelical thought lewis scholarship has not paid sufficient attention to this crucial side of this multi faceted author the oxbridge evangelist examines lewis s loss and recovery of faith and it shows how his experience heightened his own awareness of the loss of the christian faith in england because of his ability to identify with others lewis engaged in the work of evangelism with uncanny skill this work required singular courage on his part it cost him dearly professionally and in his relationships gehring critically explores lewis s motivations practices and legacy of evangelism in doing so he provides penetrating insight for those interested in the theory and practice of evangelism in a culture that too readily leaves it to the crazies of the christian tradition or relegates it to the margins of church life founded on 35 years of research into o the post 1945 anglo rhodesian history this book complements richard wood s the welensky papers a history of the federation of rhodesia and nyasaland 1953 1963 1983 and so far and no further rhodesia s bid for independence during the retreat from empire 1959 1965 2005 of so far michael hartnack wrote that once in a lifetime comes a book which must force a total shift in the thinking person s perception of an epoch and of all the prominent characters who featured in it a matter of weeks rather than months recounts the action and reaction to ian smith s unilateral declaration of rhodesia s independence the second such declaration since the american one of 1776 it examines the dilemmas of both sides smith s problem was how to legitimise his rebellion to secure crucial investment capital markets trade and more his antagonist the british prime minister harold wilson was determined not to transfer sovereignty until rhodesia accepted african majority rule in common with the rest of africa given british feelings for their rhodesian kith and kin and rhodesia s landlocked position wilson eschewed the use of force he could only impose sanctions but hoped they would defeat smith in a matter weeks rather than months the rhodesians however evaded the sanctions with such success that they forced wilson to negotiate a settlement negotiations were nevertheless doomed because the self confident rhodesians would not accept a period of direct british rule while rapid progress to majority rule was made or the imposition of restraints on powers they had possessed since gaining self government in 1923 in tune with their allies in the african national congress of south africa the rhodesian or zimbabwean african nationalists had already adopted the marxist concept of the armed struggle as a means to power sponsored by the communist bloc its surrogates and allies they began a series of armed incursions from their safe haven in zambia although bloodily and easily repulsed they would learn from their mistakes as the rhodesian forces would discover in the 1970s consequently this is a tale of sanctions negotiations and counter insurgency warfare
