the united states significantly undercounts the number of people who die in law enforcement custody each year how can we fix this deaths resulting from interactions with the us criminal legal system are a public health emergency but the scope of this issue is intentionally ignored by the very systems that are supposed to be tracking these fatalities we don't know how many people die in custody each year whether in an encounter with police on the street during transport or while in jails prisons or detention centers in order to make a real difference and address this human rights problem researchers and policy makers need reliable data in death in custody roger a mitchell jr md and jay d aronson phd share the stories of individuals who died in custody and chronicle the efforts of activists and journalists to uncover the true scope of deaths in custody from ida b wells's enumeration of extrajudicial lynchings more than a century ago to the washington post's current effort to count police shootings the work of journalists and independent groups has always been more reliable than the state's official reports through historical analysis mitchell and aronson demonstrate how government at all levels has intentionally avoided reporting death in custody data mitchell and aronson outline a practical achievable system for accurately recording and investigating these deaths they argue for a straightforward public health solution adding a simple checkbox to the us standard death certificate that would create an objective way of recording whether a death occurred in custody they also propose the development of national standards for investigating deaths in custody and the creation of independent regional and federal custodial death review panels these tangible solutions would allow us to see the full scope of the problem and give us the chance to truly address it

this publication originated from the idea that uncertainty should not be taken as fear of the unknown that should be avoided but as a natural starting point for scientific and journalistic writing risk awareness is seen as a necessary prerequisite for gaining confidence and evoking trust moving from uncertainty to confidence and trust is also an integral part of international academic collaboration as the discussions of the partners from Germany, Chemnitz, Macedonia, Skopje, Ohrid, Bitola, Albania, Vlora, Serbia, Niš, Vršac, Croatia, Split, and Bosnia and Herzegovina, Banja Luka, have shown throughout this and previous years. The project funded by DAAD aimed to bridge the diverse cultural, academic, and media contexts in Southeast Europe and to show that uncertainty can and should be taken as an opportunity. This was achieved through discussions and research projects in the course of an online workshop and summer school and this publication.

This book is the first of its kind to examine key topics in death, dying, and bereavement through a critical lens, highlighting how the understanding and experience of death can vary considerably based on social, cultural, historical, political, and medical contexts. It looks at the complex ways in which death and dying are managed from the political level down to end-of-life care and the inequalities that surround and impact experiences of death, dying, and bereavement. Readers are introduced to key theories such as the medicalisation of dying as well as contemporary issues such as social movements, pandemics, and assisted dying. The book stresses how death is not only a biological process or event but rather shaped by a range of intersecting factors. Issues of inequalities in health, inequities in support, and intersectional analyses are brought to the fore, and each chapter is dedicated to an issue that has interdisciplinary resonance, thus showcasing the wider sociocultural and political factors that impact this time of life. This book is valuable reading for scholars in thanatology and death studies and for those in related fields such as sociology of health, medical and social anthropology, and interdisciplinary social science courses.

May 26, 2020 is a date that no one will ever forget. That day we all saw the terrible death of George Floyd on social media. Sitting at the computer in his New York apartment, opera singer, producer, and author David Serero witnessed this horrific video which went viral and made headlines on every news channel. Never had he ever seen a man agonizing and begging for his life under the knee of a police officer in the United States of America, and thus in the 21st century he was outraged and sad. This behavior was unacceptable, indeed criminal, and righteously prosecuted as such. As a Jew, it immediately reminded him of photos of Nazis who proudly killed Jews during the Holocaust. Although he didn't know yet the details of Floyd's arrest, he knew it was not right. Following George Floyd's tragic death, David Serero witnessed a series of events that he wanted to collect all within the same book in the form of a diary to understand how the event led to another. He hopes that future generations will understand the escalation that led from an obvious crime to a protest, then to an American revolution, to hopefully a change for the better in a country still struggling with racism during the unprecedented time of the quarantine and lockdown due to the COVID-19 pandemic. And while strict rules of self-distancing were applied, thousands of Americans took to the streets to protest police brutality and support the Black Lives Matter movement. Some protesters were peaceful, others very violent, creating chaos which ultimately required the presence of the National Guard and a curfew for 8 minutes and 46 seconds. George Floyd struggled for his life and mentioned his sadly known "I can't breathe." Mama David Serero's fact-based only diary covered the events day by day from the tragic death of George Floyd to the protests. Also, the looting and burning of businesses the curfews demolishing statues burning the american flag reporters being rioted police officers being attacked while others showed their support by putting a knee down for george floyd and the black lives matter movement while some protesters showed their support for the police authorities others provoked and attacked them this prompted authorities to even request to defund the police and passing new bills in order to have officers liable for their actions while innocents civilians were brutally shot during the deadly weekend of independence day in several cities of america and thus by other civilians after reading this dairy you will find the 100 questions that he calls illogical illogical as the tragic death of george floyd and other events illogical because we have the solutions in our hands but no one wishes to use them illogical because these questions shouldn t be asked since we modestly think that we have learned the lessons of our history and therefore had already solved this matter he decided to call them the illogical 100 and hopes that it will open a healthy dialogue and reflection for everyone to debate in the most peaceful manner david serero is on the side of all americans it does not make any difference with anyone s ethnicity religions sexual orientations or political views though he likes to refer to a culture that defines us and is made to be shared and preserved he often likes to say culture is what is left once we have forgotten and lost everything he was in the right position as an immigrant and observer to witness a country sadly still struggling with race in the 21st century at the time where history and education are so much available on the internet diary of the events the illogical 100
