this book examines the syntactic properties of the english preposition to and the romanian preposition la at to within ditransitive structures being a study of comparative syntax from a generative perspective it aims at bringing into discussion the properties of these two functional prepositions in both english and romanian the comparative approach shows that the english to is a functional preposition fully predictable from the structure of the verb which can be deleted to is a case marker and the dative arguments introduced by this preposition are dps by way of contrast romanian la has shifted from a case marker to a person marker la has a double status as follows it has a functional status only when the dat argument analysed as dp can be doubled by the clitic where la is a person marker in the absence of the clitic la phrases are interpreted as pps and la will be attributed a lexical status thus unlike the functional to la is both a a functional dative marker and b a core lexical preposition of the location and movement frames where la assigns accusative case to its object
