since 9 11 why have we won smashing battlefield victories only to botch nearly everything that comes next in the opening phases of war in afghanistan iraq and libya we mopped the floor with our enemies but in short order things went horribly wrong we soon discovered we had no coherent plan to manage the day after the ensuing debacles had truly staggering consequences many thousands of lives lost trillions of dollars squandered and the apparent discrediting of our foreign policy establishment this helped set the stage for an extraordinary historical moment in which america s role in the world along with our commitment to democracy at home and abroad have become subject to growing doubt with the benefit of hindsight can we discern what went wrong why have we had such great difficulty planning for the aftermath of war in the day after brendan gallagher an army lieutenant colonel with multiple combat tours to iraq and afghanistan and a princeton ph d seeks to tackle this vital question gallagher argues there is a tension between our desire to create a new democracy and our competing desire to pull out as soon as possible our leaders often strive to accomplish both to keep everyone happy but by avoiding the tough underlying decisions it fosters an incoherent strategy this makes chaos more likely the day after draws on new interviews with dozens of civilian and military officials ranging from us cabinet secretaries to four star generals it also sheds light on how in kosovo we lowered our postwar aims to quietly achieve a surprising partial success striking at the heart of what went wrong in our recent wars and what we should do about it gallagher asks whether we will learn from our mistakes or provoke even more disasters human lives money elections and america s place in the world may hinge on the answer
