reality television rtv has become a staple of network and cable television with images claiming to be of real events people and situations while this content widely constructs stereotypical images of women it is also helping to develop the problematic representation of a quickly growing new genre of rtv one that features housewives from basketball wives to hip hop wives housewife series have proved popular and profitable using bravo networks commercially successful the real housewives of atlanta as a case study this thesis explores the formation of the black housewife here i conduct a textual analysis of the real housewives of atlanta to explore the post racial and post feminist building blocks used to create bravos take on the popular housewife image bravos successful the real housewives series documents the lifestyles of several sets of housewives from different cities states across the united states of the seven different casts in this series the real housewives of atlanta rhoa is the only one to feature black women as well as showcase a majority african american cast rhoa is an important case study as it reinforces and challenges the normality of the exploitation of the black woman in media in return for ratings though stereotypical portrayals of women of color are all too familiar within mainstream television rhoa is different because this specific cast still riddled with racist and sexist stereotypes is bravos real housewives series ratings frontrunner thus this study contributes to media studies research on race and gender the real housewives of atlanta reflects post racist and post feminist ideology specifically through the shows character development of the housewife and its purported attempt to represent reality on television a young fashion designer discovers a world of ambition rivalry and romance in this debut novel by the star of bravo s real housewives of atlanta fresh out of college sasha wellington s got her career as a fashion designer and entrepreneur all planned out when fate points her to atlanta she sets out to make her dreams come true before she knows it sasha s befriended by two rival bffs first there s norman savvy stylist to atlanta s stars from the a list on down then there s paris an outrageous personality with a questionable nightlife between their antics sasha s beyond grateful for her coworker casey married to an nba player casey s got class but there s more than meets the eye to being a baller s wife the more time sasha spends among these new friends the more she discovers the behind the scenes truth about atlanta s movers and shakers still she s not worried about getting caught up in the drama until she s romanced by a baller of her own reality television remains a pervasive form of television programming within our culture the new mantra is go big or go home be weird or be invisible here comes honey boo boo and duck dynasty for example are arguably two of the most compelling reality television programs currently airing because of their uniqueness and ability to transcend traditional boundaries in this genre reality television oddities of culture seeks to explore not the mundane reality programs but rather those programs that illustrate the odd unique or peculiar aspects of our society this anthology will explore such programs across the categories of culture gender and celebrity a figure that has been pushed to the periphery of television shows throughout history the african american woman has become more and more visible recently thanks to the proliferation of the cheap to produce reality television genre although many of these shows do feature african american women critics often argue that these shows are a disgrace to the community full of bickering women who are more obsessed with their labels than one another this dissertation is an attempt to recuperate these programs from such denigration i argue that reality television shows that focus on african american women do provide a great service to the community using soap opera theory as a theoretical foundation and close reading as an analytic tool this project argues that these reality programs which are called docusoaps provide complex representations of african american women that are rarely seen on television in addition they offer therapeutic space to the women on the program as well as possible ones to the black female viewers at home the case study is the real housewives of atlanta a show that has aired on bravo since 2008 this show has served as the template for the various african american docusoaps that have followed it making it an important site for the investigation of how these programs present black women and possible therapeutic spaces for that community according to popular stereotype bravo reality television portrays rapid one dimensional characters tearing each other down for viewers enjoyment whether the real housewives taps into our voyeuristic urges our fascination with wealth and class or the allure of the sheer spectacle of grown women yelling at one another the show is truly a cultural phenomenon and a global one with more than twenty international spin offs historians on housewives looks past the show s reputation as lowbrow unscripted reality television and unveils deeper historical meanings behind some of bravo s best known programs and franchises this collection of ten essays is both a celebration of the bizarre behavior of the real housewives and a critical theorizing of the importance of the shows and the housewives themselves historians on housewives explores relationships between historical topics and themes and some of bravo s most iconic moments to demonstrate the usefulness of bravo television as a tool for making history accessible with contributions from scholars representing an impressive historical breadth from the roman empire to the civil rights movement and beyond the volume carves out a space for serious treatment of the franchise fusing scholarship with pop culture to suggest interdisciplinary approaches for doing history that appeal to popular and academic audiences alike contributors are nicole l anslover martina baldwin emilie m brinkman marcia chatelain jennifer c edwards jennifer m fogel tanisha c ford noah d guynn rosemarie jones haley schroer kristalyn m shefuelend and serenity sutherland
