wissenschaftliche studie aus dem jahr 2012 im fachbereich medien kommunikation medienökonomie management universität des saarlandes sprache deutsch abstract thrillers have become the number one genre in commercial fiction with millions of potential readers across the world joshi 2009 24 although bestseller lists are generally dominated by genre fiction on the whole it is for this specific genre to stand out since the top 10 charts these days are stuffed with thrillers very nearly to the exclusion of everything else sante qtd in joshi 2009 24 indeed a close look at the bestseller lists confirms this impression considering publishers weekly s bestseller lists of the last three decades roughly 70 out of 340 entries can be classified as generic thrillers hence unlike fantasy that had its sales heydays in the last decade with the harry potter series or quite recently with the twilight saga thrillers display a certain degree of diachronic robustness compared to other forms of genre fiction apart from the recent development fantasy fiction featured its last real bestseller with Tolkien's seminal Lord of the Rings whereas thrillers display an even distribution in sales ranks Joshi 2009: 26. The question as to why is tried to be answered by this study. Consequently, the study advances two hypotheses as to why thriller fiction appeals to the reader. First, as the thriller is more successful than other forms of genre fiction, it is assumed that the thriller features some genre-inherent thematic and structural appeal that is hence only true for this specific genre. Second, in order to obtain a bestselling status, a large potential readership has to be aimed at; it is thus assumed that thrillers must be stylistically accessible, i.e. an easy read, in order to appeal to the biggest possible audience. However, this feature should be true for all forms of genre fiction, not being a thriller-exclusive feature. Both theses draw on assumed similarities between all representatives of the given genre. In other words, reoccurring patterns are looked for. Given this detail, along with the fact that a comparative analysis dealing with the factor success must draw on a large quantity of data, it is decided on performing a corpus analysis as the most appropriate linguistic method.

Ethics Business: An Integrated Approach for Business and Personal Success gives students the practical knowledge and skills to identify ethical dilemmas, understand ethical behavior in themselves and others, and advocate for ethical behavior within their organization. The course focuses on three ethical questions: the individual, the organization, and the societal perspective. These questions and views explore different areas of business ethics, such as the use and abuse of power, challenges to honesty and integrity, and participation in ethical interventions such as reporting, repair, forgiveness, and reconciliation. Most business ethics courses are based on a single point of view, depending on the viewpoint. This might be based on philosophical theory, organizational behavior, or a legal and regulatory compliance approach. As an author team, we combine and integrate these points of view into a unified whole by incorporating unique content, original videos, and adaptable case studies to assist students in making ethical decisions in their professional and personal lives.

Doctoral Thesis Dissertation from the year 2008 in the subject Law: Comparative Legal Systems. Comparative Law, Grade cum laude, University of Augsburg. Prof. Dr. Möllers' course Rechtsvergleichung Kapitalmarktrecht (Language: English). Abstract: To the point four years ago, the German Act establishing the Federal Financial Supervisory Authority (BaFin) provided for a one-stop financial services agency. BaFin, which was to succeed three formerly independent public authorities for the supervision of banking, insurance, and securities, whereas this one-stop shop approach has been both acclaimed and criticized. The US Securities and Exchange Commission, from its very beginning, administered the areas of corporate finance, market regulation, and investment. Although the missions of both supervisory authorities correspond, the powers transferred and thus the means of operations differ sharply. Limited to the supervisory power for capital markets, the thesis will analyse the agencies' historical development, governing law, operations, and legal means, and conduct an estimate of their economic efficiency. A comparison will help to provide suggestions for further legal design and development of the BaFin in the following years. Veronika Fischer, geb. 1982, promovierte nach dem Studium der Rechts- und Wirtschaftswissenschaften an der Universität Augsburg und dem Abschluss als MBA an der University of Dayton im internationalen Kapitalmarktrecht mit einem US-Forschungsaufenthalt an der University of North Carolina.
